

Final calculations should comply with the complete European Technical Approval (ETA), this approval is also available on request.